

Children & Young People's Workforce Training

New legislation requires that Children's Care facilities meet Government guidelines to ensure that all employees hold, or are working towards the appropriate Children's Care qualifications. A qualification in Children's Care will provide employees with a thorough understanding of day-to-day operational procedures and required practice within a children's care environment.

Apprenticeships and NVQs are nationally designed training programmes offering employees the opportunity to enhance their career through a combination of training and assessment.
